

Employment Recruitment Fraud Alert

Steel Technologies LLC does not conduct employment recruitment through Craigslist.com and has reported activity being conducted under fraudulent Steel Technologies e-mail addresses to the Kentucky Attorney General's Office. Steel Technologies, like other reputable employers, does not request credit information or wire transfers from job applicants.

If you receive a request for personal information, a request to complete a financial transaction or a request to purchase equipment with a cashier's check in an e-mail from anyone claiming to be a Steel Technologies recruiter, DO NOT REPLY. Please do the following:

1. Forward the e-mail to hr@steeltechnologies.com so that it may be sent to the Kentucky Attorney General's Office
2. DO NOT provide your credit information or any personally identifiable information (Social Security number or date of birth) by e-mail to anyone.

Steel Technologies regrets that it has been targeted by unscrupulous individuals preying on legitimate job seekers and will do everything in its power to bring this fraudulent activity to an end.
